

Northeast Natives & Perennials
July Newsletter
Customer Appreciation Sale

Wow, what beautiful summer weather! How fortunate we have been with low humidity and ample rainfall. Good for the garden and the gardener!

Beginning this week, we will be having our Customer Appreciation Sale. You may draw a discount amount each time you shop between July 16th and August 12th for your purchase that day. The discounts range 15, 20 and 25%. Come take advantage while the selection is good!

Give some thought to starting or enhancing your butterfly and pollinator gardens. I am currently helping with a study being conducted by the PA Dept. of Agriculture, Penn State and the Xerces Society for Invertebrate Conservation, (with funding from “Haagen-Dazs Loves Honey Bees”), on bee populations and which plants serve as the best source of food. The reason for this study is that since 1990, the native bee population in PA has reduced by 25%. We all need to recognize the huge importance of pollinators to our farming and gardening industries, and we can help do our part by providing good food sources for them in our gardens! We can also reduce or preferably eliminate using chemicals in our gardens. Ask when you come visit, for a list of good “bee plants.” For more information you can also visit www.helpthehoneybees.com or www.Xerces.org.

Thank you all for your business and I hope to see you for the sale!

Happy Gardening!

Carol
Northeast Natives & Perennials